

Keith W. Lequay Ph.D.

A social and organisational psychologist by training (Brooklyn College, Howard U.) Keith has lectured at tertiary level institutions across the Caribbean, Suriname, and the USA, in both graduate and undergraduate programmes. He has been a doctoral advisor for both South African and Caribbean universities and a graduate academic advisor for the University of West Indies (Jamaica).

A certified consultant in Group Relations with the AKRice Institute, he was an executive member and treasurer. As an OD consultant he is active in organisational wellness activities inclusive of leadership development, group, and organisational sensemaking interventions. These interventions have included international (UN), state, private sector and voluntary organisations across the Caribbean and in the USA.

His GR conference experiences include staff and member participation internationally and he is passionate about facilitating healthy and sustainable individual, group, and organisational wellness, utilising Group Psychodynamics and Whole System methodologies.
